

“a river is an irregular watercourse, completely free of artificial obstacles and with its own territory much larger than its riverbed”

Xavier Carceller, Barcelona

